You Should 'A Been There

Dr. Busy Technique
Inlay Building
101 Denture Square
Toothsome, Illinois

Dear Busy:

You should 'a been there. It was terrific. I know you were busy and I think Florida is nice myself but this was a dandy. As always, the Chicago Dental Society put on the greatest dental meeting in the world. How do I know? I was there!

Funny thing about this meeting—saw some new faces and saw some that haven't been around in a long time. Can't figure it yet. You know how hot the air can get around that meeting. So your guess is as good as mine but either they made their "pile" and want to show off or they are getting worried and trying to smarten up. Anyhow, there they were for the biggest meeting in the world. The weather was wonderful—only a little rain on one day. Just like Florida, even a shade better according to the papers.

Sunday was the first day of the convention again this year and the hotel was packed. The commercial exhibits were open and a couple of salesmen told me that business was great.

The affiliated groups met before our meeting and had capacity crowds. There was no quiet week end around the Hilton.

I hear that there were almost thirteen thousand people registered—12,965 to be exact. A very considerable number allowing for the "flu" and the armed forces. There were 6,479 dentists, of which 2,679 were from the Chicago area. The rest were hygienists, assistants, exhibitors, laboratory people and miscellaneous guests.

As usual, they had a bang-up program. You knew that Bob Pollock was full of zip and vinegar, etc., but only after seeing the meeting could you appreciate his abilities as an organizer. That job of General Chairman was his and he did very well. His warm personality and careful attention to details were noted by everyone. Johnny McBride and Robert Tuck, who were chairman and vice-chairman of the program committee, were really busy. They did some very nice work.

The essay division was under the direction of Henry Conley and W. G. F. Schmidt. Over forty essays and two symposia (catch the Latin!) were given and the subjects presented covered almost all phases of dentistry. The essays were well-attended and the audiences seemed eager to learn. At least they stayed in their seats and even those standing in the doorways stayed for the finish.

You know the more I know of dentistry, the more I realize how much I don't know. And if it weren't for these meetings—I shudder! I think—I hope—

I hear a patient coming, so will tell you more later. I still say you should 'a been there.

As ever,
Jim

Dr. Busy Technique
Inlay Building
101 Denture Square
Toothsome, Ill.

Dear Busy:

Yep, it was a new patient and I tried some of those practice management ideas. I was surprised. They really worked. He was a very intelligent man and could easily see why it was necessary to have study models and a full mouth x-ray to diagnose his case—for a fee, of course. Maybe I had better tell you more about that meeting.

Remember the limited attendance clinics? They were directed by Graham Davies and Cliff Lossman this year and were better than ever. Seems like everyone wants to know how to care for children and how to manage his practice better. I guess the fellows like to be close to the speaker where they can really see what he has to offer and give it a going over. It's this feeling of individual attention that makes it worthwhile.

The general clinics were held in the Grand Ballroom on Tuesday afternoon. They were ably organized by Wilfred Corcoran and Donald Wise and the way the crowd poured into the ballroom when the doors opened was a sight to behold. Looked like a give-away program inside. And after thinking about it I decided that must be the secret. All of those clinicians were giving away their ideas, their secrets, their knowledge and even their hopes, which made it as great a give-away program as one could hope to find. You should 'a been there.

You know there are many, many committees and I wish I could tell you all about them and all of the work that they did. Those people put in countless hours of work and effort and of their valuable time. Their service is invaluable and it is all of these efforts that make dentistry what it is today.

Monday evening, the finest general session was held in the Grand Ballroom. Robert Pollock presided. The invocation was given by the Reverend C. H. Newham. President Jim Keith, who had left a sickbed to be there, gave the greetings of the Chicago Dental Society. President Otto Brandhorst then presented the greetings of the American Dental Association.

The main speaker was a chap named Kenneth McFarland, who not only has several degrees including a Ph.D., but performs as though he knows what grass roots are and brings you right down to them. This chap is an expert on educational matters and is a consultant for many corporations and educational groups. His services are in such great demand that he is called "America's No. 1 Air Passenger"—just getting around the country to people who want to see and hear him (the dream of every dentist).

This speaker talked for about an hour and forty-five minutes and I don't know when time went so fast. He made me feel as though he were talking just to me. You know, in all that time only four people left the ballroom. Two of them were sitting behind me and I know that they had to "go." I suppose the others left for the same reason.

Anyhow, he talked about the good things in the world and especially in this country of ours. I thought I had heard enough of that during the election campaign but this was a little different. He spoke of "Educating the Heart" or learning that the good things in life come from inside of us. Love, respect, happiness and true security are things we get only from the heart. We must realize the difference between happiness and fun and remember that other people are important.

For true security, we must acquire the long look at what is important in life and seek it with enthusiasm and honor.

He said this business of "rusting on your laurels" could only end in going around in circles and soon the circles get smaller.

Speaking of elections, he said that if Harry had made two more speeches Ike would have carried Canada.

Also mentioned something to the effect that if a fellow wanted to go to Hell all he had to do was nothing—scares me!

The second general session was held on Wednesday morning. John McBride presided while the prize winning essay of the Twelfth Annual Prize Essay Contest was read. This year, an essay titled, "The Physiology of the Stomatognathic System," by Bernard Jankelson, George M. Hoffman and John A. Hendron, Jr. of Seattle, Washington, was the winner. Incidentally, if you don't come to meetings and read your journals, you won't understand what they're talking about. Oh yes, President Jim Keith presented the $500.00 to Bernard Jankelson, flashbulbs, pictures, etc.

That's all for now. I think I hear a "live one" coming.

As ever,
Jim

Dear Busy:

Just a note to let you know I had nothing to do with that letter the "Mrs." sent to Snapdragon. I certainly wouldn't want Snappy to think that this meeting was all fun. I know you told her it was all dull scientific stuff. The style show was inaugurated to improve the interest of the gals in the meeting, and to more or less round out their stay in Chicago.

When Fred Verink got up this style show business, everyone took a dim view of it. So, Fred and his committee worked like demons and the number of women surprised even Field's. It just shows that women are unpredictable. You know, sweet things but you just can't understand 'em.

Off the record, the social functions this year were bigger and better than ever. There were cocktails parties, luncheons, banquets and just get-togethers. Also, I hear, a few of those high level smoke-filled rooms were in operation.

The big gathering, of course, was the dinner-dance and floor show on Wednesday evening in the Grand Ballroom. Gerson M. Gould was chairman of the Entertainment Committee and had Bob Straub as his vice-chairman. They did a great job. The meal was excellent and served piping hot. Lou Breese supplied the music and gave us a good old banjo solo—terrific! Then there was a canary named Lida DaValle who was not only an impressive singer but very easy on the eyes as well. A dance team named Maurice and Maryea was very smooth and exceptionally clever and made me realize that many summers are now behind me.

Then there were the "Harmonicats." They did, among other numbers, their famous "Peg O' My Heart" and really had the crowd with 'em. Amazing how much music they can get out of those puss melodeons. A comedian named Jack Herbert was extremely droll (get a load of that), continuous and original. He brought those laughs from way down low—belly good. After that there was dancing for all.

There were other types of entertainment and much visiting and sightseeing. I met a couple of committee members leaving the hotel and asked them how the convention was going. They said everything was fine but there were a few loose ends that needed looking after. They then headed toward Wabash Avenue!!!

I met Mac one night. He had taken in a special clinic but the technic of filling an inside straight still escapes him. He paid a rather large tuition fee for the course.

Got to go now. That "live one" didn't go for a "rehabilitation." Oh, well, the clinician said that you can't sell 'em all.

As ever,
Jim

Dear Busy:

I forgot to tell you that I saw Joe & Bill. "Doing great," they said. They ordered Cadillacs but cancelled the orders because of what their patients might think (tsk! tsk!). Besides it's easier to drive a smaller car and more democratic. They said to give you their best and please let them know when you will be in Florida.

I always pick up something at the meeting and this morning I placed an amalgam that was just as good as those we did at school. The meeting is sort of an inspiration, you know.

I should mention the fact that everyone was optimistic about business. The thought of a return to the armed forces was voiced by many, but small choice so why worry?

Busy, I think the standards of our profession can go only up! Did you know that the Legislative and Law Enforcement and the Ethics Committees maintained a room all during the meeting to discuss problems with the membership—a very healthy attitude I think.

That's about it, Busy. Everyone should give thanks to the officers and directors of the Society and to the committeemen and clinicians and all of those who worked so hard to give us such a complete meeting. Incidentally, a "posey" to those swell folks in the central office. They worked like—well at least beavers!

I am sorry you couldn't make it. You should 'a been there. So make plans for next year and we'll be in the fore in '54.

As ever,

Both Sides of the A.D.A. Insurance Issue

January 19, 1953

Doctor S. R. Kleiman, Secretary
Chicago Dental Society
30 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Doctor Kleiman:

At a regular meeting of the Englewood Branch of the Chicago Dental Society, held on Tuesday evening, January 13, the matter of the group health and accident plan of insurance as sponsored by the American Dental Association was brought up for discussion. A motion was unanimously passed to bring the matter to the attention of the Board of Directors of the Chicago Dental Society by Doctor Solfronk, with the request that they investigate the matter and take what action they see fit and proper. Doctor Solfronk was further instructed to report back to his local branch at the earliest regular meeting possible.

Since I was the member who brought up the subject at Englewood, Doctor Solfronk requested me to state the salient facts as I see them and he would then present them to your Board.

The facts as I see them, and as all interested dentists I have talked with see them, are as follows:

The plan calls for group coverage of all who applied, regardless of age, up to 65, or previous medical history. A 50% quota of membership was necessary for the plan to become effective, otherwise no policies would be issued. The States of New York, New Jersey, California, Utah and Nevada where the company now has a plan in effect and which covers 10,500 dentists would be applied to help make up the necessary 50% quota, thereby leaving less than two-thirds of the necessary 50% to be made up.

The closing date of the drive was November 1. That was extended to December 1, and again extended to December 31. Some policies were issued soon after November 1st, others at a later date. Many policies have been rejected with a letter, stating that the insurance company had placed them in the impaired risk classification and since the quota had not been reached they would not be accepted. This in spite of the fact the plan called for all or none. I talked with a representative at the brokerage office and one at the American Dental Association office and, as I understand it, the plan was changed and the change endorsed by the Board of Governors of the A.D.A., to put the whole plan on a state basis rather than a national basis and this after the insurance company had mailed out their literature soliciting applications for their insurance plan and I presume after applications had been accepted. I fail to see how the A.D.A. could possibly do this from either an ethical or legal standpoint. What they have done is to pick up the cream of the crop throughout the country, the younger men, and have passed up the older men, the more hazardous risks, a procedure which if followed out, could very easily jeopardize the plans already in effect at the local and state level. It is quite possible, and even probable, that our Chicago Dental Society plan could drop below the necessary 50% level, at which time the insurance company could cancel out the entire group. This would leave the older men out with nowhere to go and many of these older men, after a lifetime of service, are in a large part responsible for making organized dentistry what it is today.

Also, I fail to see why the A.D.A. should sponsor anything for only part of the membership. As I see the whole matter, it was a case of: (No. 1) the literature was misleading, or (No. 2) the plan was changed after the literature was sent out and applications had been made for the insurance. And I would respectfully call to your attention, the solicitation was done by mail.

This is having a rather shocking, and I think dangerous, effect on many of the younger men also. To quote just one: "They couldn't do it. They would not dare do it. No one would have confidence in anything they might sponsor in the future." This, I am sure you will agree, is a bad way for the younger men to begin to think about an organization we have all learned to respect so highly.

The members of Englewood would greatly appreciate you investigating this matter to see what can be done about it so that Doctor Solfronk may report back to his branch Society.

Thanking you for your consideration in this matter and with kindest personal regards, I am

Yours very truly,
Frank S. Ryan, D.D.S.

Doctor S. R. Kleiman
Chicago Dental Society
30 North Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Doctor Kleiman:

I will attempt to answer the questions contained in Dr. Frank Ryan's letter of January 19th in connection with the Accident and Health insurance plan sponsored by the American Dental Association.

My first reference is to the 4th paragraph of Dr. Ryan's letter concerning qualification of the plan. I dispute Dr. Ryan's statement that there was any misrepresentation evident in the presentation of the plan to the A.D.A. membership. As you undoubtedly know, five letters were sent to the eligible membership starting on September 1st and ending November 10th. Each one of these letters contained reference to the fact that physically unimpaired risks would receive policies November 1st and thereafter but that risks with physical impairments would be accepted up to the maximum of $200 monthly, only if the required enrollment of 50% of the national membership were attained. As an illustration I quote from the first letter sent out dated September 1st, paragraph four as follows: "All members under age 65 and in active practice are eligible to apply, and if the required enrollment of 50% is obtained, all applicants WILL BE INSURED REGARDLESS OF PHYSICAL OR MEDICAL HISTORY, except that impaired risks will be limited to a maximum of $200.00 monthly benefit. Impaired risks will not be accepted after the close of this charter enrollment period."

Similar reference was made in the letter sent out September 15th, October 1st, October 15th and November 10th, and I am sure that you will agree that this statement is as clear as any expression could be as respects the qualification requirements.

I feel that Dr. Ryan's statement that "50% quota of membership was necessary for the plan to become effective, otherwise no policies would be issued" is wrong. It is true that the enrollment finally ended on December 31st but unfortunately, sufficient applications were not received nationally to qualify the entire plan. We needed 17,000 applications to qualify the nation but received approximately 10,500. At the present writing, 6,500 of these 10,500 are physically unimpaired risks and insurance certificates have been issued to these members.

On the other hand, about 4,000 applications and checks have been returned to members who applied, indicating to them that due to the fact we did not attain the qualification percentage their checks were being returned and they would have to await the next enrollment period. At that time we are certain the plan will qualify so that members with physical impairments will be accepted. Again, Dr. Ryan is wrong in his statement that the plan called for all or none. In the September 1st letter the third paragraph I wish to quote as follows: "At all times during the enrollment

Efficiency In Dental Practice*

By Leonard V. Foley, D.D.S., Chicago, Illinois

[Editor's Note: Dr. Leonard V. Foley was graduated from the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, Loyola University in 1940. He is a past-president of the Uptown Dental Forum and is a member of the Great Lakes Group. Dr. Foley has presented clinics at many meetings of the Chicago and Illinois Dental Societies and the American Dental Association, as well as at many Branch meetings. During World War II, he served with the U. S. Army Dental Corps, attaining the rank of Captain.]

Production Management is a method of producing more dentistry, with less expenditure of time and energy, and still achieving uniformly better results. The methods advocated are used to make office procedures more efficient.

After the diagnosis has been completed and the case presented to the patient, the future appointments are planned and recorded on the patient's ledger card. Each operation, the symbol of the tooth to be operated upon, the estimated time to complete the operation, the fee to be charged, and the sequence of the appointments are charted. The assistant is enabled to anticipate the appointment as to the length of time, the necessity of premedication, the necessary armamentarium, and the distribution of the doctor's energies throughout the day. Often patients will express a desire to pay as the work progresses; this usually will force the operator to slow down the production of dentistry to meet the immediate cash outlay. When such a request is made, the doctor can refer to the appointment plan and divide the number of sittings into the estimated fee, and the quotient is the payment required at each appointment. If this is considerably more than the patient had anticipated, "usually he had $5 in mind," a payment plan can be agreed upon at this time.

An individual instrument tray is made up for each patient. Every instrument needed to complete the operation should be on the tray. This eliminates reaching into the cabinet for instruments, allows the doctor to remain seated, and completes the operation with a minimum amount of interruptions. A supply of diamond instruments, cotton rolls, cement and burs, is always available on the operating table. The bracket table has been removed from the dental unit, and an operating table has been pulled up behind the patient. Thus the instruments and unsightly waste resulting from most dental operations, are not in direct view of the patient. Psychologically, this helps to allay some of the patient's fear of dental instruments.

The use of diamond points in cavity preparation reduces the cutting time immensely. Diamonds cut with less vibration and with more accuracy than steel burs, to the definite advantage of both doctor and patient. However, to use diamonds efficiently, a constant stream of water must be sprayed over them. The advantages of water lubrication are:

1. Increased cutting efficiency
2. Elimination of heat and the possibility of pulpal injury due to thermal changes
3. Prevention of clogging of diamond points, so that amalgam or gold can be cut as easily and safely as tooth structure
4. Reduction of vibration.

the storage compartment of this unit in a spray-bottle heating element.

The attachments for the straight hand-piece and contra-angle are easily adapted. Two outlet nozzles are provided, and air or water may be used separately, or in combination, as the operator desires.

ILLUSTRATION NO. 4

The use of a constant stream of water requires a saliva ejector with an extraordinary amount of suction. To provide this suction, a vacuum pump is connected to the ejector hose. This vacuum pump serves—1. as a saliva ejector; 2. as an aspirator for surgical procedures; 3. it provides, with another outlet valve in the laboratory, the vacuum for inlay and model investment.

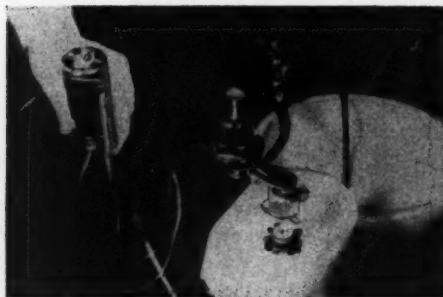

ILLUSTRATION NO. 3

ILLUSTRATION NO. 5

The Henschel Thermal control unit is used because it is synchronized with the dental engine and permanently connected to the plumbing. The temperature of the water can be controlled by placing

This pictures the various attachments used with the vacuum saliva ejector hose. The three saliva ejectors are used as indicated, when operating on the right or left posterior areas, and the rubber tipped ejector is used in the operations on anterior teeth. By replacing the ejectors with the aspirating instrument and tips, a very efficient surgical aspirator is provided.

ILLUSTRATION NO. 6

The design of the Nyman saliva ejector is invaluable in protecting the tongue, especially when large cutting discs are used in crown or slice preparations. The patient can hold the ejector on position, eliminating the interference of the tongue during the operation. The mirrored surface reflects light.

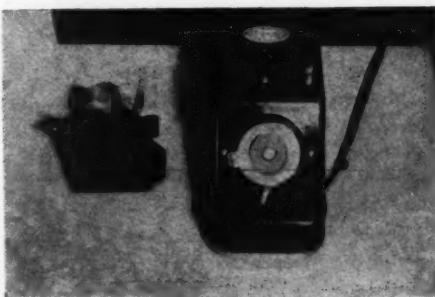

ILLUSTRATION NO. 7

The mixing of amalgam is made more efficient by the use of an alloy proportioner and an amalgamator, and can be done by the assistant while the doctor is sterilizing the finished cavity preparation.

The indirect inlay technique has given the profession a means of producing precise gold restorations and fixed bridges in one-half the chair time previously needed. A hydrocolloid conditioner keeps the necessary elastic impression material at the proper temperature for immediate use.

To eliminate frequent changes of cutting instruments during the operation, a standard routine has been established for each preparation.

In preparing a class two cavity for an amalgam restoration, the first cut is made with a number 19 knife edge diamond stone. The instrument is carried across the marginal ridge, and the cavity walls are flared lingually and buccally to establish the proximal line angles. Using this same stone, the occlusal step is widened. The dentino-enamel junction is apparent when this cut is completed. At this junction a 557 steel bur is sunk to the depth of the proximal step and carried across the bucco- and linguoproximal line angles.

A number 1 diamond point is placed in this groove, and the proximal line angles are completed. The buccal and lingual proximal walls are undercut their entire length to provide the necessary retention.

Diamond point number two is used to extend the occlusal step into preventive areas. This same instrument serves to smooth and finish the walls and margins of the cavity preparation.

The slice inlay preparation is prepared in the following manner:—In the straight handpiece, a number 87 diamond disc, or preferably a stroboscopic disc, is used to make the mesial slice. On the distal surface a number 94 convex disc is substituted. The contra-angle is then attached, and the knife-edge diamond stone number 19 prepares the occlusal step and flares the proximo-occlusal line and angles. Number 2 tapered diamond point follows out the occlusal fissures, and provides the marginal bevel. A number 701 bur cuts the proximal lock, and sharpens the pulpo-occlusal line angle.

The routine use of efficient procedures in the dental office makes each hour more productive and eliminates the strain and fatigue that accompanies confusion and disorder.

ANTERIOR PLASTIC SPLINT FOR ESTHETICS

The single purpose of this prosthesis is esthetics. It is used for the correction of unsightly anterior teeth due to diastema. Whether it is practical is a matter of opinion. The patients who wear them are pleased. The patient presenting a diastema is usually caries-free on the interproximal of these teeth. The splint gains its retention from the natural bell shape of the tooth. It is not cemented. It is not indicated in the case with the extreme closed bite.

The technique follows: (1) An alginate or hydrocolloid impression; (2) an accurate shade; (3) the model is poured, a stainless steel wire is adapted to the linguo-gingival surfaces of the teeth, wax is applied to the lingual, interproximal and incisal surfaces; (4) process.

It is applied on the lingual and the labial is feathered to a fine margin. It closes the spaces and is an esthetic improvement.—By E. W. Lewis, D.D.S. The Journal of the Oklahoma State Dental Ass'n., October, 1952. J. N. L.

ANTIBIOTIC THERAPY

Antibiotic is defined as any substance of microbial origin having an antibacterial action. The usefulness of an antibiotic is determined by the ratio of antibacterial activity to toxicity. There are two groups of antibiotics in use: one which is suitable for systemic administration such as penicillin, aureomycin, and streptomycin; and another which, because of toxicity, is limited to topical administration such as bacitracin and tyrothrycin.

Bacteria, like all living forms, attempt to maintain a constant equilibrium with a changing environment and any substance which interferes, either through action at the cell membrane or disturbing or blocking any of the steps in the complex metabolic activity, is an antibiotic.

Penicillin, as an example, acts at the cell membrane by changing the permeability of the membrane so that necessary glutannic acid is not available to the cell. Tyrothrycin, however, lyses the membrane, breaking down the cell while the sulfanamides act intracellularly by competing with para-amino benzoic acid in cellular metabolism.

The spectrum of activity of each antibiotic is limited to those bacterial species sharing the particular chemical structure, enzyme or metabolic pathway which is destroyed or blocked by that antibiotic.

Bacterial resistance to antibiotics is frequently exhibited and is accomplished by the development of mutation forms, by-passing a blocked metabolic step or the change from sensitivity to nutritional dependence as shown by the action of streptomycin on meningococci.

Sulfonamides are more toxic than the antibiotics but in the triple sulfanaminal form are the drugs of choice in urinary infections, bacillary dysentary and meningococcal meningitis. It is doubtful that they have any place in dental practice.

Streptomycin may produce lesions of the glossopharyngeal nerve, which may be of long duration.

• Penicillin is best administered intramuscularly. Orally it requires about five times the dosage.

Injecting penicillin directly into infected areas is not justified as the infecting organism may not be penicillin sensitive.

In practice, it should be remembered that some infections are commonly caused by staphylococci (e.g. acute dental abscess, osteomyelitis) and penicillin resistant staphylococci are being observed with increasing frequency. In Ludwig's

U. OF I. OFFERS POSTGRADUATE COURSE IN ROENTGENOLOGY

A postgraduate course in roentgenology which is designed for the general practitioner will be offered at the University of Illinois College of Dentistry on Wednesday evenings starting April 8.

The course is titled "Roentgenology—Undistorted Long Cone Technic," and will feature laboratory instruction and practice. It will be given from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m., over a period of six consecutive Wednesdays.

The course will be taught by Dr. W. W. Wainwright, professor of radiology and head of the department, and staff. Enrollment will be limited to 12.

DOINGS IN DINING ROOM NO. 3

At the Midwinter Meeting, the Chicago Dental Society took another long step forward in its efforts to make available to its membership all of the facilities of organized dentistry. Room #3 on the third floor of the Conrad Hilton was assigned as combined headquarters for the Legislative and Law Enforcement and the Ethics Committees. The entire profession—the local members, the out-of-town guests and the laboratories—were invited to present any problems or information pertinent to these committees. The doors were always open. A half page notification was placed in the official program. Several posters reminding the convention of this activity were placed at the registration desk, at the elevators and in other strategic spots.

The following members of the L & L Committee each devoted at least one-half day to receiving any member or guest desiring to obtain or give information: Drs. Wenger, Lynch, Gubbins, Tolar, Rakow, Gillmeister, Brophy, Bancherel, Kohout, Hartley, Riemer, Brasmer and Elman. The Program Director, Edgar Stephens, was actively present so often as to appear almost as a permanent fixture.

The outcome of all this activity was an almost continuous session from Sunday noon through Wednesday. Everyone was welcomed. Many good suggestions were proposed and openly discussed. Meetings with out-of-town guests from states having similar problems were arranged in order to obtain any plausible solutions. Much information was obtained and a great deal given. Room #3 was by far one of the most continually active rooms at the meeting. Anyone not partaking of this opportunity for complete open discussion with the L & L Committee missed sitting in on some of the most pertinent and active discussions at the convention.

We are still desirous of aid and information from the membership. The L & L Committee is certainly doing its job. Let's all help it complete our present job in combating the bootleg laboratories. The No. 1 problem still remains—the gathering of evidence against these violators. Anyone with any information should contact the Program Director, Edgar Stephens, at the central office. Do it today!—Earl S. Elman.

ENGLEWOOD MARCH MEETING

The next meeting of the Englewood Branch will be held on March 10 at Nielsen's Restaurant. Dr. Stanley C. Harris, Associate Professor of the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology at Northwestern University Dental School, will discuss "Pain Control."

Dr. Harris has done considerable work with local anesthesia and has some very definite information on both local and general anesthesia and analgesia. We believe this program will give every man something to take back to his office.—Robert L. Straub, Program Chairman.

U. OF I. ALUMNI NAMES OFFICERS

Dr. Arthur Marc of Chicago has been named president of the University of Illinois Dental Alumni Association for the coming year. Dr. Marc, a graduate of the class of 1940, succeeds Dr. William R. Gubbins of Oak Park.

Dr. Marc was a member of the University of Illinois faculty from 1946 to August, 1952, holding the rank of instructor in operative dentistry.

Dr. Joshua S. Vission of Chicago, class of 1931, was named president-elect. Other officers who have been installed are Dr. James Lynch of Evanston, class of 1937, vice-president; Dr. Seymour H. Yale of Chicago, class of 1945, treasurer; and Dr. Eli Olech of Highland Park, class of 1923, secretary.

LOYOLA HOMECOMING

The Annual Homecoming at Loyola University School of Dentistry, 1757 West Harrison St., Chicago 12, Illinois, will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 15 and 16. The banquet takes place in the Gold Room of the Congress Hotel on Wednesday evening, April 15. Tickets may be secured from the chairman, Dr. Carl Madda. A new and different program will be presented; more information will appear in future issues of this magazine.—Olaf S. Opdahl, Publicity Chairman.

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY DENTAL SCHOOL TO HOLD ANNUAL ALUMNI SCHOOL AND HOMECOMING

On Tuesday, April 7, 1953, the annual Alumni School will be held at the Dental School. A one-day postgraduate course comprised of three clinical subjects will be presented by prominent dentists. Dr. W. F. G. Schmidt of Chicago and Dr. Henry Q. Conley of Evanston will present a clinic on the "Correction of Occlusion of Natural Teeth". Dr. A. O. Christiansen of Milwaukee will be one of the clinicians for the Oral Surgery and Anesthesia course and Dr. Arthur L. Roberts of Aurora will be one of the participants in the Complete Denture Clinic. The courses will extend from 9:30 AM to 12:00 and 1:30 to 4:00 PM. These courses will afford an opportunity to bring yourself up-to-date in a selected field of dentistry. A registration fee of $15 will be charged for each course and early registration is suggested since these courses have been quite popular in the past. Please call Miss Merle Hunter at the Dental School, Superior 7-4500, Extension 334 if you wish to make a reservation.

WEST SUBURBAN

With a registration of over twelve thousand dentists and guests, the 88th Midwinter Meeting of the Chicago Dental Society came to a successful close on Wednesday evening, February 11. Bob Pollock, our own Bob, has barrels of orchids due him. As general chairman, he has done the most beautiful job of the 1953 meeting. Your correspondent conversed with at least half of the membership of the West Suburban branch during this most successful meeting. We certainly will be back for more in '54!!! I understand that on Friday the last bill for this 88th meeting was paid—and on Saturday the '54 committee met to draft plans for next year's meeting! As per usual, West Suburban members did their share in making this the best dental meeting in the country. I saw oceans of people around the Atterbury and Topel clinics on Tuesday afternoon—there were others too numerous to mention. . . . On Tuesday evening, March 10, at the Oak Park Club, we resume our monthly evening meetings. We have been fortunate enough to secure Dr. Robert L. Grissom of Oak Park who will discuss "Coronary Heart Disease and its Prophylaxis." Dr. Grissom is assistant professor of Medicine at the Research and Educational Hospital of the University of Illinois and also attending physician on the staff of the department of medicine at the Presbyterian hospital of Chicago. . . . A note—a word to the wise is sufficient. Be certain your dental assistants become members in the West Suburban branch of the Chicago Dental Assistants Association. I know of no other auxiliary branch of our professional organization that is as important to us as this group of girls. We are fortunate to have a group of young ladies who are progressive and wise enough to continue their education by having the best of speakers at their evening meetings.

Their get-togethers are not coffee and cigarette sessions. These girls are intent on learning more and more to aid in making your office and mine a more productive and thus a more efficient one. Those of us who do not persuade our "girls" to join this group and attend meetings are setting dentistry back at least ten years!!! . . . The next meeting of the West Suburban Branch of the Chicago Dental Assistants Association will be Thursday night, March 5, at the Carlton Hotel, Marion and Pleasant Sts., with dinner at 6:30 p.m. The speaker is Dr. J. S. Restarski; his subject will be "Good Canal Therapy." . . . Ensign Donald Mastrud, son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert F. Mastrud, is attending an all-weather flight school for navy pilots at Corpus Christi, Texas, to qualify as an instructor. More anon.—Anthony J. Malone, Branch Correspondent.

SOUTH SUBURBAN

Having absorbed all that knowledge and sweated out all the excess food and the alcoholic beverages imbibed during the Midwinter meeting, I imagine that most of us are back in the old routine again. Was it shocking to look around at all the familiar faces and wonder if the same amount of change has taken place in your physiognomy? Time Marches On! . . . Our boys have started dispersing again. Henry Bahlman is down in Florida, St. Petersburg, that is, for a three-week stay . . . E. E. Grossi is taking the whole month off to traipse down south to Mississippi for golf and relaxation and also to admire the azaleas which come out about this time of the year . . . Ran into A. Brookstra at the Midwinter Meeting and he, too, is going to Florida to see if he can latch onto some of the sailfish that have been playing around the St. Lucie's inlet. . . . In the proud parents' department, the latest addition is to the Seidels of Harvey, a boy. . . . Bierma of Lansing has gone overboard for those new '53 cars and done went and got himself a Pontiac. . . . That's all for now—see you all at our March meeting in Midlothian at Chuck Cavallini's.—H. C. Gornstein, Branch Correspondent.

WEST SIDE

Our 88th Midwinter meeting of the Chicago Dental Society will go down in the annals as the greatest and most scientific meeting in dental history. No one who heard Dr. Kenneth McFarland, our principal speaker, in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel on the subject "Fathoming the Fifties," in his analysis of what will face us in the next few years in current trends and events, will ever forget it and I am sure many of us will carry his talk in our minds for many years to come. His superb delivery, his poise, his knowledge of the subject and his humor kept everyone interested until the last word was spoken. Passing thru the exhibit hall, I noticed the exhibits on "Quacks in Medicine," conducted by the Bureau of Investigation of the American Medical Association, showing us how different medicines used for reducing, curing cancer, etc., were exposed and the violators prosecuted. The entire meeting from a social and scientific standpoint was a huge success and enjoyed by all. The Loyola Dental Alumni Association cocktail party was a tremendous success and was well attended by our West Side boys. It was gratifying to see the Alumni members and their beautiful wives enjoying themselves. Walt Zipprich, John Reilly and their wives attended the dance at the Hilton, but managed between dances to see the Chuck Davey-Kid Gavilan fight. . . . A group of our West Side boys are leaving for Florida in the next few days—Sam Kleiman, Leo Cahill, Bob Tuck and Bill Bingaman. Tuck and Cahill expect to go by plane. Earl Bouler is also going to Florida during the next week. . . .

Glad to see our president Walt Kelly on his feet again after a siege of the flu. Harold Gillogly did not break his leg, but his right arm, which is almost as bad. We were happy to see him around at the Midwinter meeting. Also glad to see many of the other boys of the West Side at the meeting, namely: Chuck Vission, Al Sells, Harold Epstein, Frank Kropik, Ed Rus, Carl Madda, Bill Gubbins, Bob Tuck, Leo Cahill and many others. . . . Our next meeting on the West Side will be on Tuesday, March 10-53. Let's all make this a real good meeting and get-together. . . . That's all now, see you at the meeting.—Joseph F. Porto, Branch Correspondent.

NORTH SUBURBAN

Mis Amigos, esto es la vida. On this occasion the North Suburban edition is being written on the powdery white sands of Veradero Beach in Cuba. What a place! Never have we seen water so clear, so sparkling, and so-O-O blue. Life is very lazy here and it's a perfect place to relax and soak up sun. We are greatly tempted to open up a branch office down here. . . . We slipped out of town during the Midwinter Meeting so that all we can report about that affair is that it was really booming when we left. Fred Verink was working hard for the Ladies' style show; Ed Sullivan was escorting visiting journalists; O. H. Stuterville was demonstrating some of his work in malignancies; Edgar Coolidge was seen studying the exhibits and, at one time or another, we encountered nearly the entire membership of North Suburban. Our greatest disappointment was the fact that Jim Keith was laid low by Virus X at the climactic point of his term as C.D.S. president. That was really a low blow. . . . Bill Mayer has been seriously ill and is in debt to the blood bank of St. Francis Hospital. If you could help Bill by being a blood donor, contact the blood bank, DAVIS 8-2200. . . . Charles Baker had an item for this column but at the moment it evades us. . . . We do wish that our local correspondents would give us even a little support by reporting on the news in their various areas. We would enjoy printing some "goings on" from Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Libertyville, Waukegan, etc. areas. . . . Oh, yes, Harry Hall notified us that he is departing from Arlington Heights next month at the specific request of Uncle Sam for a couple years of military duty. He has a man coming in to cover his practice and affiliate with him in the future. . . . 'Tis time for another swim so we'll close for now. Next report from 636 Church St., Evanston. Adios, Amigos! Your wandering scribe.—Robert B. Jans, Branch Correspondent.

KENWOOD-HYDE PARK

The Midwinter Meeting has come and gone. As usual, it was a huge success. Those who were responsible deserve a lot of credit. They spent many hours in the preparation of this fine program. So when you meet one of the boys, give him a little pat on the back, tell him what a swell job they did. You know that is the only compensation these boys receive. Those pats will not cost you anything and it will tell the gang their efforts have not been in vain. . . . The next Monthly Meeting of Kenwood will take place on Tuesday, March 3, at the Sherry Hotel, 53rd and the Lake. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Donovan Brown, of Northwestern University Dental School. His subject will be "Some of the Problems of Periodontia." Dr. Brown is a classmate of mine and he remained at school to teach. That alone should be enough recommendation to bring you fellows out to the meeting. . . . Our own Seymour Yale will give us a table clinic on Periodontia. Seymour is another up-and-coming Kenwoodian. So scratch the old book and be there. . . . Morton Fireman has returned from the Army and has located in the new Medical Building at 7222 Exchange Ave. . . . Cliff Randall, Jr. also has returned from the Army and is practicing with his father at 106th and Ewing. . . . We welcome both of you boys back to the fold and will be looking forward to seeing you at the Kenwood meetings. . . . There are a couple of things that I have failed to mention in this column. . . . You know when your house gets on fire you may be the last to know about it. . . . But Wayne Fisher's son, Clinton, has been back from the Air

BILL MAYER NEEDS BLOOD URGENTLY

William E. Mayer, past-president of the Chicago Dental Society and friend of most dentists in Chicago, has been suffering from a serious blood disease. So far, Bill owes the blood bank at St. Francis Hospital four quarts of blood and will have to go into the red more in the near future. If you can be a donor for Bill, call the blood bank for an appointment. St. Francis Hospital, 355 Ridge Avenue, Evanston. Telephone Davis 8-2200.

period applications will be accepted from all members found to be normally insurable under usual underwriting requirements. These normally insurable members will receive their certificates of insurance shortly after November 1st, 1952, effective as of that date."

With regard to his reference that the plan was changed and the change endorsed by the Board of Governors of the A.D.A., this is also untrue, as the original proposal presented to the Board of Trustees of the A.D.A. contained the fact which I quote as follows:

"There will be an agreed enrollment period of from three to six months, impaired risks to be granted policies only when 50% of the membership subscribe. It is understood that impaired risks in any one state will be granted policies upon the qualification of that state."

I feel that Dr. Ryan's statements are distinctly unfair and I know that they are not based on the facts as they exist. It is certainly reasonable to assume that a group of representative men such as the Board of Trustees of the A.D.A. would not even consider any misrepresentation such as Dr. Ryan surmises.

In presenting the plan everybody concerned leaned over backward in pointing out to the A.D.A. membership that it was not the intention to suggest the discontinuance of existing Accident and Health plans in any state or local Dental Society but rather to consider A.D.A. coverage as a supplement to their coverage already in force.

In many instances members might be limited in their state or local plan to an amount of insurance insufficient for their needs in which event additional insurance can be obtained in the new association plan in addition to that already in force. It was also pointed out that professional men should carry A & H insurance up to 80% of their average annual income.

I hope the foregoing expressions will help in trying to clarify the situation and that further criticism as to misrepresentation might be held to a minimum.

Sincerely,

Paul W. Zillmann, D.D.S.

on Insurance.

For greater protection of abutment teeth and patient comfort

the MODERN CLASP by Nobilium

Modern Clasps have more "give", show a minimum of metal. Illustrated here are several basic types for greater protection of abutment teeth, longer mouth service, better aesthetics.

THE functional designs of Modern Clasps eliminate stress and strain on abutment teeth, prolong their life and protect them from the clutching grasp of ordinary clasps—yet hold the appliance firmly and comfortably in place. The gentle, rather than rough, clasping action is due to the fact that the fingers of the clasp are independent of the rest. This separation provides not only for greater flexibility and stability in the clasp but greater adjustability—a factor that lengthens the service life of the case and the abutment teeth.

Add the advantageous physical properties of Nobilium, Aristocrat of Chromium Alloys, and you can be assured of restorations that give an unlimited mouth service. For maximum strength with lightness, maximum hardness with resiliency and maximum satisfaction, entrust the design and processing of your partials to your nearby Nobilium laboratory.

ENGLEWOOD

I am finishing this copy on Lincoln's birthday—you know, the man who invented the penny. It is also Chas. Darwin's birthday, he who pointed out that man is related to monkeys. It is understood that the monkeys feel very bitterly over the matter and that they are contemplating a suit for libel. And come to think of it, Lincoln's birthday, Friday the thirteenth, and St. Valentine's day, one following right on the heels of 't'other, bring a strange jumble of ideas. (Add, Why Correspondents Go Insane). . . . Went to the Erie Cafe with Glen and Elba Walden one night during the Hilton show for steak dinner. We were greeted by a sign on the door, "Remember the steak you had here last year? You can now have it again." Repainted, varnished, and with new rubber bands in 'em, we wondered? . . . And speaking of the Hilton show, of course the highlight of the entire meeting was that masterfully presented clinic on extreme close-up photography given by the justly great and famous R. J. Waska. This brilliant clinician reports having his efforts wildly acclaimed by a large and enthusiastic audience. The janitor who stopped to listen (the only person who did) was large, and Waska was enthusiastic. Ah me, just another four-ulcer man in a six-ulcer job. Even the hot dogs didn't sell! Non Illegitimus Carborundum, I always say, what the heck do you say? . . . Francis O'Grady liked his own clinic so well that he is going to give it again, this time so that he can hear it, and this time at the Minneapolis meeting. Bill Burke is to give out with his thoughts on crown and bridge at the same get-together. John F. McCarthy is going too, but just for the ride—and mebbe some Up-Doc. You ask, "What's 'Up-Doc'?" Oh, not much, what's up with you, Doc? . . . We extend our sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Harry Kazen. Ten minutes after his arrival at the meeting, Harry was called to the phone to learn that his father-in-law had passed away. . . . Dick Valentine is going to be a very busy guy. He and Mrs. V. are property "men" for the Palos Players, and they also furnish sound effects and background music for the productions put on by that group. The Silver Whistle is to be staged at the end of February, and Dick is to play the lead in this well-known vehicle. As soon as his make-up is removed, he and Mrs. Valentine will be off to Hawaii by freighter. They plan to spend three weeks with Dick's father who lives on one of the islands, and then they will fly back to the States about the first of March. . . . Borgerding is also hard at work—building an evergreen windbreak on his "farm" in Palos. He plans to build there later, but I am just a little suspicious that he wants the windbreak in first so that it will be good and tight in case he loses his way back to the house from the garage on a cold and windy night. . . . Received a nice phone call from Frank Farrell who reported on the goings-on in good ol' 519A, the Old Timers' room, that repository for the Ancient of Days who squeak and creak to limber up those tired old muscles with a bit of Old Put-and-Take. You know the stuff, you put one under the belt and they take you out in a bag. Englewood's 1911 president, Dr. Baumgardner, who now lives in Iowa, checked in to see the boys. The list of visitors to the room who greeted him reads like a Whoozoo—Kazen, Lucas, Pollack, Bill Shippee, Walsh, Tom Fleming, Lindholm, O'Grady, O. E. Johnson, Donny Reynolds, Werre, Deplewski, Nowlan, Kanchier, et al. John Lace (nursing a bum back) and Goldhorn shared honors as hosts and, according to Marion Hopkins, Ora Medsker was an able referee when a frightening situation arose. Seems as how John Brothersen was "telling one" on Ernie Goldhorn when, at just the wrong moment, in walked brother G. himself! Incidentally, Ernie celebrated his birthday on Monday the 9th. Many happy returns of the day to you, Ernie Goldhorn. . . . While all this excitement was going on in 519A, a much more sober (?) group was meeting in the Loyola room. The discussion leader being no one less than Dr. Raymond C. "Hot Putter" Van Dam. . . . John Devin created quite a scene all by his lonesome. He kept pestering the heck out of the Rota-Seat demonstrator—he wanted to borrow one just for the meeting days—so that he would not have to "stand" in the chow line! After being thrown out three times he finally settled for grubbing at the "Y." . . . Lucas had a word of warning—watch out for Olivi at the next and subsequent meetings at Nielsen's. DON'T bump into his car, will you, fellows? DON'T scratch it. Better yet, don't even touch it—it's a brand spankin' new Holliday Olds, and you know how that first mark hurts and hurts. . . . I was standing in front of the Hilton waiting for a bus to take me home from the Tuesday afternoon session, when a drunk staggered out of the place and fell down in the gutter. As he lay there, one of the many pigeons about the place alighted beside his head. Opening one eye and seeing the pigeon, he asked languidly, "Any messages?" . . . As we go to press, we learn

NORTH SIDE

The Midwinter Meeting of 1953 has now passed into history and it was just as fine a meeting as any of its great predecessors. It requires a great amount of teamwork to put on a meeting of this type, and much of this work was done by our North Side members. . . . Orville Larsen was the first Northsider your correspondent saw in action. Orville is a member of the Ethics committee, and he was busy checking to see that all was in order. . . . I saw Bas Cupis, who was Chairman of Publicity at this meeting, arranging for photographers to take pictures of the exhibits. . . . Walter Nock, our director to the Chicago Dental Society, certainly must have been busy, for on two different occasions we saw Mrs. Nock who had no idea where Walter could be. . . . Interested North Side spectators at the meeting were Herb Gustavson and his charming assistant, Miss Johnson. Herb also brought along Marsh Nilsson. . . . Harry Kent was seen wandering about enjoying himself. Harry served as a committee member of the motion pictures division. . . . Wilfred Corcoran was kept busy as chairman of the General

Clinic Division. . . . Don Wise and Earl Hullison also served on the same committee. Don was planning a Florida trip following the meeting. . . . Fred Dattelzweig, Bob Hasterlik, Carl Asher and Ed Luebke put in their time as members of the Entertainment Committee. . . . Len Foley, Rube Kadens, LeRoy Levey, Al Spiro and Ches Stanley teamed together to put on a nice table clinic, Tuesday afternoon, on "Equilibration in Occlusion." . . . LeRoy Levey reported that his dog was also making an appearance at another show. Last week his champion springer won the Cleveland dog show and, at the time of the Midwinter Meeting, was appearing at Madison Square Garden. . . . Milt Natonson made only a brief appearance at the meeting, before leaving for Florida to join his family. . . . To those who receive the FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW by March 1st, the North Side meets on Tuesday, March 2nd, at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.—Edward O. Benson, Branch Correspondent.

Father looked hard at his wife and then at his son. "That boy has taken money from my pocket!" he stormed.

"Ernest," she protested, "how can you say that? Why, I might have done it."

Father shook his head. "No, you didn't; there was some left."

angina of streptococci etiology, penicillin is the drug of choice. Many oral infections are mixed and require combined therapy.

The herpes virus may respond to aureomycin.

The bacteremia following extraction is of short duration and premedication with penicillin to control bacterial endocarditis, one-half hour before extraction, is indicated.

In cases of sensitivity to penicillin G, the substitution of penicillin O will eliminate reactions.

The ease of control of infection through the powers of the antibiotic should not let us forget that pathogenic bacteria are still dangerous and may circumvent this control.—“PRINCIPLES OF ANTI-BIOTIC THERAPY” by J. B. McDonald, D.D.S., M.S. Journal of Canadian Dental Ass’n. J.N.L.

THE BIOPSY

The early correct diagnosis is essential in malignant disease. To date, the only means of establishing a diagnosis is by taking a tissue section for microscopic study. This is known as a biopsy. It is agreed that biopsy of epidermoid carcinoma does not “spread” the neoplastic cells.

The biopsy finds its greatest use in ruling out malignancy in apparently insignifnificant lesions. Only in this way can early cancer be found. To control cancer, the nature or type of malignancy must be determined.

There is no contraindication to biopsy. The presence of Vincent’s organisms is never a contraindication.

In taking a biopsy the areas to be avoided if possible are those nearest bones, cartilage or teeth, near large blood vessels and sites of necrosis.

The pathologist prefers large specimens and some normal tissue. The author and most therapists prefer small specimens and no normal tissue. Usually a specimen 4 to 5 mm. square and about as deep, removed with a fine blade, is of sufficient size. An endothermic loop or one of the special tissue punches is also of value. The wound should always be electro-coagulated to seal off the lymphatics. The specimen should not be crushed and should be placed immediately in a fixative such as 10% formalin.

Whenever there is doubt concerning a diagnosis, the dentist should take a biopsy himself or have an oral surgeon take one. If the idea of biopsy is understood, most laboratory reports should read “no malignancy.” In other words, our suspicion index should be high.

All dental students should be taught the technic of biopsy. All graduating dentists should purchase punch biopsy instruments.—By S. G. Castigliano. Temple Dental Review, Summer, 1952.
